Greetings President's Message

We had a great AGM in April. The evening began with Councillor Walters sharing a few thoughts and responding to questions. It is clear he is well aware of our parking issues and future developments with the University. With respect to the executive, Harvey Guhl has stopped being our newsletter editor and is replaced by Erin Sawyer and Allison Nitchke. Thank you Harvey for many great years of service in keeping us up to date with the newsletter. And welcome to Erin and Allison! Also, Xanthe Loyer has stepped down as our social coordinator. She is going to continue her magnificent planning for the 50th Anniversary in June. Thank you greatly Xanthe and we are all looking forward to an amazing day on June 21st! Our new social director is Georgina Hawkeye.

Our next meeting is June 2nd, and this will be our last meeting before a summer break. We reconvene on September 8th. Look forward to seeing you all at the 50th Anniversary celebrations on June 21st. Feel free to contact me with ideas, questions, kudos... at president@lendrum.org

Gary Goulden

Message from Councillor Michael Walters:

Welcome to Spring (hopefully)!

It was another long winter here in Edmonton and, as usual, we survived. We are ready to welcome spring and to look forward to a summer filled with festivals and hot weather. As we move into spring here at city hall we will keep a little bit of winter with us. At our May 21 Transportation Committee we will be discussing and improving our snow and ice control policy. I will be pushing for improvements to snow clearing and windrow removal on streets adjacent to schools. We are reviewing the whole policy and, as a council with six newcomers, there will be a lot of new ideas about how to make it better.

Oh.. and potholes!

City council will continue to invest in road repairs this year and voted on April 15 to add an additional $27 million into the Arterial Road Rehabilitation program for 2014. As citizens you are the eyes out there so please alert 311 to any potholes that need attention.

Infill and public transit

There are two very important policy discussions underway at City Hall. Council is deliberating over a review of Edmonton Transit and how we can expand and improve the system within Edmonton. I am also part of a regional conversation about how best to provide public transit across the region.

As we expand transit we also have to consider our growth as a city. With over 500,000 people expected to move to Edmonton in the coming 20-30 years we have real questions to ask about where they all will live. I am committed to starting a larger conversation about infill and increased density to counter rapid outward expansion. If you have any questions about these topics or others please get in touch at michael.walters@edmonton.ca or 780.496.8132.

The Lendrum Abundant Community Initiative

What makes a great neighbourhood? Have you ever thought of that question?

As a Lendrum community member you will get the opportunity to answer these questions through the City of Edmonton's Abundant Community Initiative.

We know that in general Edmontonians place a high value on river valley access, playgrounds, parks, and walkability. We have that and more in Lendrum: we have great people! For the past 16+ years my wife & I (& kids!) have had the privilege of seeing that truth borne out in Lendrum over & over again.

Sociologist John McKnight, co-author of, 'The Abundant Community' says, "Building community is more than occasional, tangible events like holding picnics or doing a group service project. It involves the more fundamental tasks of rearing a child, promoting health, and keeping the streets safe. To fulfill these functions in a satisfying way, a community needs certain properties. A competent (Abundant) Community has three properties":

- 1. Focus on the gifts of neighbours.
- 2. Nurture associational life - activities and interests that neighbours might do together.
- 3. Offer hospitality, the welcoming of strangers.

1. In order to "focus on the gifts" of our neighbourhood, in the next few months we would like to find out about you & your household's visions and dreams for our neighbourhood; the passions and pastimes which occupy you; and the gifts, abilities, and experiences your household possesses. To do this we want you to make these a topic of conversation with a neighbour who will be contacting you as your 'Block Connector.' They will come equipped to your home with a "Lendrum Conversation Guide" for a casual 10 minute interview.

2. As a way to "nurture associational life" within the neighbourhood we will be renewing our effort to inform neighbours of others with common interests or complementary gifts. There are gifts, skills, and experiences that neighbours are willing to share with others. Such skills include basic computer operation, playing guitar, road biking, yoga & many, many more. Experiences include immigrating, parenting, and illness. This is your chance to tell us who you are and what makes you tick.

3. As a neighbourhood we want to continue the kindness that encourages people to be open and hospitable. We welcome the gifts of neighbours previously unknown into our community. No one should feel the pressure to join, but we want everyone to receive the invitation to belong.

Please contact Anola or Stew, stewcarson@shaw.ca or at 780-432-9115 (home) or 780-604-0388 (cell) if you can help, especially as a Block Connector. Block Connectors are people who are just naturally good at forming relationships - they like to interact with people & see neighbours relating to neighbours. Our first Block Connectors have already hit the streets!

University Land Trust

The University of Alberta is seeking approval for a land trust to facilitate development on areas such as the university farm. The final decision on a trust is expected within the year. The university plans to make public a document describing the trust and its objectives. The university compares the proposed trust to trusts at the University of British Columbia and the University of Calgary. Information on those two trusts can be found at the following links.

<http://www.wcdt.ca/>

<http://www.ubcproperties.com/profile.php>

Please send your questions about the trust to civics@lendrum.org.

122 Street Access to University South Campus

The foundation is dug for a major west-side entrance to South Campus from 122nd street. The road will go to the Saville Centre. The university plans to complete this entrance by September 2014.

Parking

The last Lendrum newsletter listed three proposals for addressing LRT and Saville-event parking. Three people wrote emails supporting parking restrictions. The city plans to undertake a parking survey in north-west Lendrum in Fall 2014.

Traffic

The city undertook a traffic count at the 60th avenue and 115th street intersection during the spring and concluded short cutting is not an issue in Lendrum.

Pleasantview Community League held a public meeting on traffic issues in March. Over 300 Pleasantview residents attended. A summary of the traffic calming measures the city is considered in Pleasantview is found at the following website. Look for "Pleasantview Workshop Summary".

http://www.edmonton.ca/transportation/on_your_streets/pleasantview-traffic-concerns.aspx

Michener Park

The university requested comments on a draft redevelopment plan for Michener Park. The comment period ended this May. The plan is for the university to redevelop existing residences. A separate corporation is planning to build on the different lands near Malmo leased from the university. Presentations on both plans are available at the following websites.

University's New President

University staff are preparing for a new president who starts in 2015. University staff are gathering information from communities adjacent to the university to brief the incoming president. Here are four of the 7 questions the university is asking.

- What is your current relationship and history with the University of Alberta?
- What do you believe are the greatest advantages or challenges of being a neighbour to the university?
- How do you see the relationship with the university developing over the next 10 years?
- What are the top three things you wish the new President to know about your community?

New Lendrum Civics Representative

Ray Betton-Evans and Joanne Ellison were the civic representatives for Lendrum. They are working abroad for the next two years starting this summer. I recently took over from them for Lendrum civics. Ray and Joanne were exceptionally helpful to me in the transition. I know they actively communicated Lendrum's concerns to the city and the University of Alberta. I want to thank them on behalf of Lendrum residents for their diligent work in representing the community.

Email civics@lendrum.org with any feedback or comments.

Lendrum Nature News

It feels like it's been a long time coming after the "winter-that-would-not-end", but there have been promising signs of spring over the last month. The Canada Geese were some of the first migrants back as there is stiff competition to occupy the best nest sites. In the spring and fall many of them spend time at the University Farm gleaning dropped grain. Gulls and crows usually arrive near the equinox, March 21st but were late this year, as were the robins - almost three weeks later than usual. Even the dandelions were late blooming! However there is hope, one sees new grass coming up through last year's dry remnants and the poplars have broken dormancy, some of the early clones have leaves.

It would appear the meadow voles have enjoyed good health due to the deep snow, judging by the tunnels through our lawns and gardens. Check out the following for more information. <http://www.edmontonjournal.com/Fresh+Greens+Pesky+moles+thrive+long+snowy+winters/9766949/story.html>

Our local white-tailed prairie hare population has also done well and their young ones will be hidden under shrubs. Remember, if you find a young rabbit, or any other young animal, it is almost always better to leave them alone as the mother will be returning to feed it. Once again there are merlins nesting in the area. These are small falcons with blue-gray backs and white to pale brown undersides with some streaking. They have a very loud cackle that sounds like "klee-klee-klee". We enjoyed seeing huge flocks of bohemian waxwings that swirled around the tree tops this past winter enjoying last year's crabapples and mountain ash berries.

Despite the addition of entrance restrictors on the bird houses, house sparrows have moved in to some of them. The good news is we spotted a tree swallow swooping through the natural area checking out the nest boxes! This is great news for soccer players and their parents because they eat mosquitos. These are small birds with pointy wings and a forked tail, with a beautiful iridescent blue-green back and white belly.

Last summer the city contracted to have four sections of the naturalized area planted with more native plants. These included a small section of tall grass prairie near the amphitheatre, a larger section just below the gravel path in the small grass prairie and two sections of wet meadow near the drain by 113 A. Street. We are happy to see many of these plants have come through the winter and are looking very healthy.

On August 6th, we'll be hosting a Family Nature Night organized by the Young Naturalists Club of Nature Alberta and the City of Edmonton. We will be showing off the native plants in the natural area, playing some games and doing a craft. More details to follow.

It's always great to see so many people out enjoying our wonderful park, please remember to take your snack wrappers and recyclables to the nearest trash can.

Happy Spring from your Community Naturalist,

Thanks to all our helpers for the Lendrum Playground Bottle Drives

Thanks to all who helped deliver flyers, collect bottles and load them up! The community bottle drive was chilly, but we got it done... Lendrum responded quickly and generously to our bottle drive. We filled a truck and still the depot guys had to come back to pick up the rest.

A big thanks to those who dodged volleyballs and got the job done at the Saville Center. We were thrilled when the Saville Center reached out to us to raise funds for our playground by collecting bottles during Volleyball Nationals. What a great way to build a connection with the University!

Lendrum Soccer Seeks Referee Coordinator For 2015 Season

We would like to give a great big thank you to Catherine Stout for having served for a number of years as our Referee Coordinator for Lendrum Soccer. However, we regret that this season will be her last and we are seeking a Referee Coordinator for the 2015 Outdoor Season.

The summary of responsibilities that the Referee Coordinator oversees during a season include:

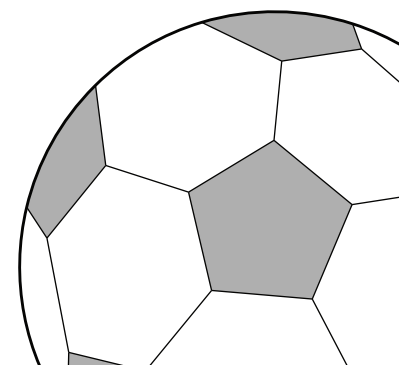

Recruiting and maintaining a list of referees within the community: Lendrum keeps a list of referees from the previous years, and uses tools such as the newsletter, a referee database, and our community network to help find referees. Typically there are a number of youth age individuals who are interested as referees are paid.

Scheduling and Coordinating referees for games played in Lendrum by Lendrum Community teams: Referee's are required at the U10 and older age level. In 2014, Lendrum has 3 teams at these age categories so the number of games per week is currently small.

Coordinating with the Lendrum Community League Treasurer on payment to referees: Payments are currently being made on monthly basis to simplify the process and keep paperwork light.

Supporting the ongoing development of new and existing referees within the Lendrum Community: Lendrum supports those interested with free referee training courses.
